

Training to become a Specialist for System Catering with LSG Sky Chefs

During your training to become a Specialist for System Catering you will get to know the corporate organization of the worldwide largest company for integrated in-flight service solutions while gaining insights into the core processes of logistics, material management, and production planning.

The qualification takes place in our large facilities at the Frankfurt or Munich airports or in one of our local branches. Here awaits you an equally interesting and exciting environment. If you bring along commercial intuition and an interest in culinary and logistical processes, then you should choose to train with LSG Sky Chefs.

Facts

- You will be qualified to become a Specialist for System Catering within 3 years.
- At vocational school, you will acquire extensive theoretical qualification focusing on general economics and gastronomy management.
- Your practical training will take place in our large enterprises at the Frankfurt or Munich airports or in one of our local facilities.
- You will gain insight into the areas of system organization, marketing, human resources, consulting and sales, as well as controlling.

Requirements

- Good results on your secondary school certificate, completion of commercial college, advanced technical college entrance or general university entrance qualification
- Interest in commercial assignments and practice-oriented processes
- Good German language skills
- Good English language skills

Application period

Approximately one year before training starts you will find a job ad in our job offers. You can directly apply there.

Training begin

After the completion of school summer vacation in the respective Federal State.

Please apply online at www.Be-Lufthansa.com.

For your online application you will need the data from your CV and your school grades from the last four semesters.