

Dual study program to become a Bachelor of Science in Informatics with Lufthansa AirPlus Servicekarten GmbH

If you would like to work for a modern, international credit card company, combine an Applied Informatics study course with practical training with Lufthansa AirPlus!

You will study at the Baden-Wuerttemberg Cooperative State University in Mannheim and complete your studies as a Bachelor of Science in Informatics.

During your practical internship phases, you will gather experience in various IT departments within the company and take part in the development of our IT systems. You will get to know both development processes and technologies.

As a Bachelor of Science in Applied Informatics, you can expect challenging tasks in the areas of software consulting, conception, and development.

Facts

- You will complete your qualification to become a Bachelor of Science (B. Sc.) in Informatics at the Baden-Wuerttemberg Cooperative State University in Mannheim with practical assignments at AirPlus within 3 years.
- You can choose one of two majors:
Applied Informatics (International Business Competence)
or Corporate Information Management
- In a three-month pre-internship, you will get to know the most important business processes and data flows of a modern and international financial services company.
- During your practical internships, parallel to your studies, you will have access to the various IT departments at our location in Neu-Isenburg near Frankfurt am Main.

Requirements

- General or field-related entrance certificate for higher education
- Good results in mathematics, physics and computer science
- Good English language skills, both written and spoken
- You can think beyond boundaries, are creative, self-confident and independent, team-capable and service-oriented
- Distinctive analytical and conceptual thinking potential along with swift perception

Training begin

Yearly in August

Application period

Several months before training starts you will find a job ad in our AirPlus job offers. You can directly apply there.

Please apply online at:

www.airplus.com - „Career“ – „Job offers“