

st.i.p. Aviation – The study and practice program for Aviation Management students (m/f)

Are you interested in economics and aviation? Is 'just' studying too theoretical for you? Then study Aviation Management at the International University of Applied Sciences in Bad Honnef Bonn and qualify for the st.i.p. Aviation program. This will enable you to combine your studies and intense practice periods with Lufthansa!

Within the framework of the program, during your lecture-free periods, you will complete five systematic assignments in operational areas such as Cargo and Check-in as well as with commercial departments throughout the Lufthansa Group, for a total of 39 weeks of practical experience. Preparatory and accompanying training, lectures and tours complete the program.

Facts

- The internal training measures along with the travel costs to and from the assignment locations will be covered by Lufthansa.
- During your practical assignments you will receive a monthly compensation for each complete month of employment, or pro rata where applicable. The amount of the compensation for the first three months is 650 EUR per month and as of the fourth month 750 EUR monthly.
- Study fees are not covered by Lufthansa.
