

University Internship with the Lufthansa Group

Every year, Lufthansa offers internships to over 1200 students in all areas of its corporation, both in Germany and abroad. We would like to offer you an internship that allows you to gather experience in our daily operative routine, while offering real project work in your department along with insights into the entire Lufthansa Aviation Group.

Those interns that particularly impress us will then be offered the opportunity to take part in our retention and sponsoring programs. These enable you to build-up networks and gain intensive entrepreneurial experience by way of workshops and case studies.
