

International Airline Professional (IAP)

We would like our customers to feel at home everywhere in the world. We also want to ensure that our customers' freight reaches its intended destination safely and on time. Furthermore, we want our customers and contractors to continue to regard us as one of the leading and dependable global corporations. That is why we qualify our own International Airline Professionals (IAP).

Would you like to prepare yourself for upcoming management tasks within the Lufthansa Group? And would you like to represent our corporate values and products, worldwide? – Then we are looking forward to your application!

Facts

- In 24 months, the IAP program qualifies you to become an International Airline Professional assigned to our international locations.
- As a participant, you will be part of an international and multi-cultural group.
- You can expect diverse tasks in various functional departments of our business units Lufthansa Cargo or Lufthansa Passage.
- You will get to know the structures, strategies, and customers of the Lufthansa Aviation Group.
- You will participate in seminars and apply your acquired knowledge during practical internships in a variety of corporate departments.
- During your IAP program you will be personally supported by a training coordinator.
- The program is also accompanied by an individually attuned performance management system.
- As an IAP program participant, you will receive a monthly salary, based on local standards.

Requirements

- Above-average Bachelor Degree or equivalent qualification
- Citizenship of the country offering the position or permanent residency and work permit for that location
- Fluent in English and in the language of the country offering the position (both written and spoken)
- Basic knowledge of German or willingness to learn the language
- High level of service orientation
- Team-capable and able to work on your own
- Intercultural competence and sensitivity
- Entrepreneurial thinking and behavior
- Strong social and communication skills
- Ability to work efficiently under time constraints in a dynamic environment
- Proficient MS-Office and computer skills
- Candidates must also fulfill and show proof of all special requirements needed to receive an airport security badge (ZUP)

Application

Please apply online directly to our international stations which have posted the positions. Information regarding current job offers can be found under www.Be-Lufthansa.com.