

Flight Attendant

A fascination for flying connects many people worldwide. Fulfill your dream of flying and help shape the future world of service with a strong team.

We are searching for Flight Attendants to join our customer Deutsche Lufthansa's team based at their Berlin location.

Would you like to meet the challenge? – We are looking forward to working with you!

Facts

You will be flying continental/European routes from Berlin.

Training

- Professional service training and comprehensive qualification
- Training duration: approximately 6 weeks incl. a route experience training flight onboard a Lufthansa aircraft

Remuneration

- Outlay compensation during the training phase: 380 EUR monthly (pro rata basis)
- After a short trainee phase, Flight Attendants will receive an unlimited contract with AviationPower. Deployment will be initially for Lufthansa from Berlin.
- The remuneration is regulated by the Collective Labor Agreement of the Federal Service Employers Association (Tarifvertrag des Bundesarbeitgeberverbandes der Personaldienstleister (BAP/BZA) and for the time period of Lufthansa deployment is adjusted to the Lufthansa starting salary.
- Furthermore, during this deployment many additional benefits will be granted.
- Vacation entitlement during deployment is 42 days a year.

Requirements

- Completed schooling
- High level of service orientation
- Outgoing personality, strong communication skills and team-capability
- Friendly manner and well-groomed appearance
- Intercultural competence
- Sense of duty in stressful situations, diplomatic even in difficult situations
- Independent, dedicated, and showing own-initiative
- Responsible and dependable
- Fluent in German and English
- Minimum age: 18 years
- Minimum height: 1.60 m and appropriate weight
- Passport without restrictions
- Visual acuity between +/- 5 diopter
- The maximum diopter level before a laser operation may only be +/- 5. The laser operation must have taken place at least 6 months before the flight fitness test.
- Willing to work shifts and on international assignments

Application process

Start an application

After clicking “Stellenangebote” (Job Offers) in the job ad, you will be transferred to the application platform part of our website. There you can directly begin entering your personal data and click through and give your consent to the privacy policy and the application details.

Create an application

Next, fill out the application form according to the selection fields and click through the individual application steps, page by page (colored arrows will give you a continual update on your application status). Finally, please attach your school certificates, as well as other documents that will make your application stand out, and send the application to us.

Telephone interview

If you meet the general requirements for your desired position, you will receive an e-mail from us with an invitation to a telephone interview. You must respond to this invitation within 14 days in order to remain in the application process. Shortly thereafter, we will conduct a 10-15 minute telephone interview with you in German – part of it will be in English.

Selection day and reliability check (ZUP)

If you successfully pass the telephone interview, we will then get to know one another personally. During an English test, an individual interview and group exercises, we will get to know you better. A reliability check (ZUP) will follow if you successfully complete this portion of the application process.

Health examination (medical), training, contract offer

If your reliability check comes back positive, you will be asked to complete health assessments (medical) relevant to your performance as a Flight Attendant and subsequently begin your training. During this time you will be employed as a trainee. You will be taken on as a permanent employee after successful completion of the training.